PSA Penn Terminals (Penn) represents PSA International's first foray into the United States.

Penn is one of the best equipped, privately-owned multipurpose marine terminals on the country's Eastern Coast. It is also a key component of the perishable cargo handling infrastructure of the Delaware River, with approximately 80,400 m³ (2,850,000 ft³) of on-dock reefer warehouse space. It is estimated that close to 40% of the US fruit imports come in via the Delaware River, which tallies to about 4 million tons per year. The Delaware River's key advantage is its existing cold chain ecosystem, fulfilling importers' need for inspection, sorting, and quality checking of fresh fruit produce, prior to transport to their final destinations.

Penn is located about 9 km south of Philadelphia city, with uncongested access to Interstate 95 for U.S. East Coast destinations, and Interstate 76 for U.S. Midwest markets. ■
